Zeno's Corner

As we start this new year, I have been reflecting on the events of 2025. We have all faced health problems within our families, but here we are welcoming this new year. We have all faced struggles, but we have found the strength to face them and move forward. I realize how fortunate we are to live in a country which allows us freedoms some can only dream of and opportunities others can only envy. How lucky we truly are! I hope that 2026 brings you health and happiness and plenty of chances to enjoy this great hobby we all love. Happy New Year!

Regards, Zeno

December 7 - Christmas Party

This year's festive Christmas party theme was "Your Favorite Christmas Movie Character!" I spotted Santa and his elves and reindeer, Charlie Brown and Lucy, and even John McClain from Die Hard, which of course sparked the old "it's not a Christmas movie" debate. Phyllis Seymour and Marie Ferguson did a fabulous job decorating our clubhouse, and this year, the club provided turkey, ham and beef tenderloin while the members brought sides and desserts. As always, we ate well and plenty! Our annual drive for Ronald McDonald House Mobile raised over $800 for this wonderful charity, in addition to the millions of aluminum tabs the club has donated over the years. Jerry Money started an arrangement with the recycling center on Hitt Road to save the can tabs for us, and Dan Jacobs has taken over delivering these valuable recycling items to Ronald McDonald House for us—usually in several 5 gallon buckets, if you can imagine that! Each one of those buckets is worth about 8-10 dollars each for RMHM, and the DSR donates several times per year! Thanks Jerry and Dan for your hard work!

2026 Activities

Maybe you don't have time to commit to serving on a board position, but you can take some of the pressure off of our board by planning an event during the year! It does NOT have to be big or fancy or even original! It can be something as simple as an ice cream run or simply gathering as a club to attend a car show, cruise-in, or cars and coffee. Pick a month, and the board will help with anything you need to plan and promote your event!

Fire Protection in Automobiles

By Mac McNamara

Let me preface this article with a bit of information to consider. You should have an ABC dry-powder automobile-rated extinguisher in each car you drive. The best extinguisher to have will be at least 2.5 pounds, securely mounted in the cab of the vehicle in an easy-to-get-to location, and will be refillable. You must check it monthly to ensure its gauge indicator is in “the green” section and strictly follow factory recommended internal maintenance and recharging schedules.

Why the information?

I have been in a car that caught fire. I was stuck on the interstate in traffic when a car near me caught fire. At a recent car gathering, a car near me caught fire upon starting. Yes, there is morbid humor in that maybe, just maybe, you don’t want me around a car. Except in each instance, I was able to obtain a fire extinguisher and put the fire out.

The first was at a gas station. The car backfired and I was able to see, in the gap between hood and body, that a fire had started at the carburetor. The gas station fire extinguisher was utilized (despite the attendant vehemently decrying I could not use it). The second one happened in a car behind me. The bus we were next to had an extinguisher I used to put out the fire.

The third happened most recently at the cars and coffee. I was in a new-to-me car and had not put an extinguisher in it, but its younger sibling (another London Taxi) had just shown me the location for the fire extinguisher. When I saw the fire in another vehicle, I ran to the taxi and was given the extinguisher without hesitation. There were other participants that brought much smaller extinguishers, but none were used as the 2.5 lb. extinguishers was able to get the fire out. The smaller ones others had would not have had enough powder to extinguish the fire and one of the containers did not discharge at all (fell apart in the users’ hands, as I recall).

If you have an extinguisher, review its manufacture date and adhere to factory-recommended policies for care, maintenance and, if necessary, disposal. Not only I will be adding a fire extinguisher in my daily drivers and my classics but, as a safety precaution, I will also be adding a fire blanket. This would have been handy in the latest event to prevent body injury when opening the hot hood of the car.
